I hope that when it comes out I can at least see it in person. I hope to be able to handle one when they are in a local store. From what I've seen it should be awesome.

Cool, another happy user! I think a lot of first looks are more like "Uh? whats this?" but after a few minutes and it's scanning and receiving that first look goes to "hey, this is neat!". That's pretty much the way it was for me.

BTW, I get to Fry's way too often....lol They have way too many toys in that place! I'd need a bigger house too.
