

Its beginning to look a lot like ...

Posted by UPMAN - 20 Dec 2011 17:26

The holidays are upon us, and I want to take this opportunity to wish everyone in the Community a fantastic holiday season and prosperous new year for 2012.

With all the gift giving, I expect to see some new faces in the coming weeks, many asking questions that have almost certainly been asked and answered before...but that I know this community will welcome with patience and open arms. If you are just arriving, I'm glad to have you here. Don't be shy about asking us anything...we are eager to get you going with your HomePatrol-1.

Hi Paul,

Why does the date of the posting not show?

It is nice to see "6 hours ago" etc, but I think a date/time stamp would be nice to see on the postings. If nothing else it would let you know that you are reading in the right direction!

thanks.
